Participating

Ask questions on the GitHub Discussions forum and be part of the conversation. You can also join the MDAnalysis Discord Server to talk with other users and developers. (In order to join our Discord server, use the invitation link https://discord.gg/fXTSfDJyxE.)

Please report bugs or enhancement requests through the Issue Tracker.

MDAnalysis is open source and welcomes your contributions. Fork the repository on GitHub and submit a pull request. Participate on the GitHub Discussions (Development) forum.

MDAnalysis regularly takes part in various mentoring and outreach programs, such as Google Summer of Code, Google Season of Docs, Outreachy, the Station1 Frontiers Fellowship, and the CompChemURG mentorship schemes. Many of the current core developers joined the project through these mentoring schemes. The project also frequently offers teaching workshops, both online and in-person; recordings are often made available on the MDAnalysis YouTube channel. Follow our blog, LinkedIn, Twitter, and Bluesky pages for updates on how to participate.
